

Arison School
of Business

Arison School of Business and Eagle Labs invite you to

THE ANNUAL QUANTITATIVE TRADING SYMPOSIUM

Monday, May 14th, 2018

Radzyner-Sustainability Building, IDC Herzliya Campus

The symposium is held as part of the annual Conference in Financial Economics Research. It addresses practical aspects of quantitative trading and brings together leading academics and practitioners - international and local.

16:30 Registration

17:00 Greetings

17:15 "Consumer Credit and Technology"

Prof. Andres Liberman, Stern School of Business, New York University

17:45 "Autonomous Learning Investment Strategies (ALIS) - An Investors Perspective"

Michael Weinberg, CIO of MOV37 and Protégé Partners

18:15 "Genetic Algorithms in Trading"

Nir Azriel, Co-Head of Genesis Platform, Eagle Investment Solutions

18:45 Coffee Break

19:15 "Sovereign Credit Risk and Exchange Rates"

Prof. Patrick Augustin, Desautels Faculty of Management, McGill University

19:45 "Quantitative Trading of Crypto Currencies"

Ori Simantov, Founder and CEO, AltCoin Consultant

Participation is free of charge, early registration is required.

Please use the following link to register:

The Annual Quantitative Trading Symposium 2018

Looking forward to seeing you.

Prof. Jacob Boudoukh, IDC and Rotem Eldar, Eagle Labs
Event Co-Organizers

